The governor of the state of Wisconsin, Scott Walker, has declared Catholic Schools Week from January 26 to February 1, 2014. During this week, the governor will recognize the contributions of Catholic schools in the state of Wisconsin, emphasizing their role in providing quality education to students. The governor also praised the Catholic schools for their commitment to community service and their role in preparing students for leadership roles in society. The governor's proclamation can be found in the image.