Legislature’s Final Floor Period Begins Next Week
The Legislature’s final floor session will begin next week on Tuesday, April 13, and run until Thursday, April 22. Any bill that is not passed within this period dies. Although new bills continue to be introduced, few if any of these are expected to pass this late in the session.

Senate to Vote on Payday Lending Bill
This week, the Senate Committee on Veterans and Military Affairs, Biotechnology, and Financial Institutions adopted a substitute amendment to Senate Bill 530. As amended, SB 530 would limit payday loans to 35 percent of monthly income or $1,500, whichever is less, and would limit the locations in which payday lenders can operate. It would also establish a statewide database and give the Department of Financial Institutions regulatory authority. The bill does not include a rate cap, although it is expected that cap will be offered on the Senate floor as an amendment. The bill now goes to the Senate floor for a vote on Tuesday, April 13.

Vote Likely on Mental Illness and Substance Abuse Parity
During this final floor period, the Assembly is likely to vote on Assembly Bill 512, which enhances health insurance coverage requirements in Wisconsin for mental illness and substance abuse. The bill ensures that those who work for businesses with 50 or fewer employees who suffer from these conditions receive the same care and treatment as those who have physical health issues. Both AB 512 and a version of the bill passed earlier this year by the Senate, Senate Bill 362, were amended with several changes, including an exemption for employers with under 10 employees. The WCC testified in support of this legislation.
