US Senate Votes on Two Embryonic Stem Cell Bills

By a vote of 63-64, the US Senate voted this Wednesday on Senate Bill 5, which would provide public funding for embryonic stem cell research. The vote fell three votes short of the 67 votes needed to override President Bush’s promised veto. On the same day, Senators voted 70-28 to pass Senate Bill 30, which would allow federal funding for stem cell research that does not involve the taking of human life. The US Conference of Catholic Bishops strongly opposes S. 5 and supports S. 30.

On a related note, The Journal of the American Medical Association just published the results of a new clinical trial that, for the first time, used adult stem cells to reverse juvenile diabetes.

Cover the Uninsured Week, April 23-29, 2007

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops and the Catholic Health Association of the United States will again co-sponsor "Cover the Uninsured Week" taking place April 23-29, 2007. Funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the purpose of this effort is to focus the nation’s attention on the 46 million Americans who lack any form of health insurance. The USCCB has joined with ecumenical and interfaith partners in educating the public and policymakers about the need for affordable and accessible health care for all.
